The 70-64 Nightmare:

BUTE, MANUTE TURN BACK SHU

by Tim Hurley

Senior co-captain Mark Butigian, playing one of the finest games of his four-year career pumped in a game-high 27 points and center Manute Bol added 19 points, 13 rebounds and 15 blocked shots to power the Purple Knights to a 70-64 win over arch-rival Sacred Heart last Wednesday night. UB is now ranked No. 1 in the NECC and 20 in the Nation.

This victory, played before an overflow crowd at the Harvey Hubbell Gym, was one of the biggest wins of the season and also of the last few years for Bridgeport. Sacred Heart came into the game ranked number one in New England and number nine in the nation in Division II. The Pioneers had won six straight at the Hub. The last time a UB team defeated Dave Bike's club was back on Feb. 23, 1980 in a 70-69 nailbiter.

Head coach Bruce Webster was beginning to wonder if he'd ever beat Sacred Heart again.

"I felt very relieved after this game," he said. "We were worried about this game because their program has been sky-high for the last several years, and we've been down."

Bridgeport stormed out to an 18-11 lead after eight minutes with Bol hitting for 10 of the Knights first 18 markers.

Finding themselves down 28-19 with just less than seven minutes in the first half, SHU outscored the hosts 12-3 to tie the game at 31, and Bol was exiled to the bench with his third foul.

Butigian sank a pair of freebies as the half came to a close with Bridgeport leading 34-32.

Sacred Heart took a 36-34 lead early and then for the first 12 minutes of the second half it was a seesaw battle as the game was tied on six different occasions.

Bol, not wishing to pick his fourth foul, wisely played tentatively on defense until he rejected a Joe Jackson layup which led directly to a Norman Taylor hoop.

UB then outscored the Pioneers 12-0 with Butigian supplying important points down the stretch and Bol effortlessly rerouting SHU's futile attempts in the UB paint.

Bol exited with 54 seconds remaining with UB leading 69-56. Sacred Heart was able to chip away at the lead, making it appear the game was closer than the final score would indicate. This showed the fans just how valuable Manute Bol is to this Bridgeport team.

John O'Reilly played a superb floor game for the Purple Knights dishing out 11 assists and playing well defensively.

Webster inserted sophomore Frank "Footy" Brown into the game early to offset SHU's quick guards and the move paid off. Brown scored four points, but more importantly, helped limit Roger Younger, normally a 16.5

scorer, to just six points.

The two clubs meet again at the SHU Box on Feb. 23. The Purple Knights will be looking for the sweep of the season series.

CAFETERIA PRICES RAISED

by Dan Smith

A group of "minor price increases" have been instituted in the Student Center Cafeteria, according to Carl Lindall, DAKA Food Service Director. According to Lindall, the increases are necessary "offset the labor cost" involved in running the snack bar.

Only "about ten percent of the items got a five cent increase," said Lindall adding "nothing got more." According to Jim Bailey, cafeteria manager, some of the sandwiches and all burger items were hit by the 5 cent increase. In addition, the small ten ounce soda for .40 was replaced with a new twelve ounce soda for fifty-five cents, a relative 14.8% increase in unit cost. The other soda sizes remain the same, but are now five cents higher.

Although prices have increased, the meal allowance on meal cards remains the same. Jim

Bailey said he is studying the effects the increases have on meal-card users and is "putting together a proposal" to submit to Lindall for approval. Bailey said he expects to request some type of increase in the allowances. Bailey said he is "not getting a lot of negative comments" regarding the price increases and asserted that he doesn't "make a profit with someone on the meal plan."

PD TO BEGIN PARKING BLITZ

According to a memo issued to the campus community from Cornelius Carroll, Director of Public Safety, "(in response to complaints of parking violations...the Bridgeport Police Department has advised us that they will undertake a vigorous parking violation program throughout the campus starting

(this week.)"

The memo noted the police will be paying particular attention to vehicles in handicapped areas, crosswalks, and at fire hydrants.

Tickets issued will be Bridgeport City tickets, not campus tickets. Any complaints or appeals will have to be taken through the proper channels, city court and the city police department. The campus police have no control or jurisdiction regarding parking on campus streets, only campus lots.

Carroll added in his memo, "the fines for these violations are substantial, therefore, we believe it would behoove all to avoid parking in violation."

WARNING FROM PUBLIC SAFETY

Do Not Drive Down Lafayette Street

Cornelius Carroll, Director of Public Safety, issued a notice to the campus advising suggesting members of the campus community avoid using Lafayette Street once past Atlantic Street. The reason being that the Bridgeport Police have advised the department of Public Safety that a number of complaints have been received regarding vandalism by youngsters in the vicinity of the Pequonnock Apartments during the late afternoon and evening hours. The same warning was issued to Warnaco employees.

Bridgeport Police warn not to drive in the marked zone during late afternoon and evening hours.

WORLD

The stockhold disarmament Conference re-opened in Sweden on Tuesday. The Soviet Union proposed a treaty at the 35-nation conference that would commit nations to refrain from being the first to use conventional or nuclear arms. The United States said that NATO allies would not negotiate on the pact.

Anatoly Karpov and Gary Kasparov commenced their forty-seventh game of chess yesterday during the fifth month of the world championship in Moscow. The two Russians remain locked in the championship, being called the most grueling in modern chess history.

Karov, the champion, has the lead five to one and needs only one more win to keep the title. The last thirty-seven games have been draws.

The Dow Jones Industrial Average rose 14.79 points to a record high closing of 1292.62 on Tuesday. The new mark is 5.42 points higher than the old mark of 1287.20 set on November 29, 1983. The Dow Jones Average was down 1.55 at 3:00, when according to the Wall Street Journal, prompted by "program buying" by several large security concerns it surged 16.34 points in its last hour.

WEEKEND IN REVIEW

By Deborah Santemma

Hello. Well, everyone seems to be back in full swing this semester. Hope you all had happy holidays.

Thursday night was the traditional Pub night. The place was packed and stayed that way till closing. There were a lot of people dancing and as usual, having a good time!

The White House party got off to a late start on Thursday night because most of the tenants were partying at the Pub. Once it did start, it got better and better. Elmo said something good.

192 Main had a successful blow out on Friday night. Traveling the subways of New York during rush hour would be a piece of cake compared to trying to get to the keg!! The place was packed!! Who ever took the front doorknob, please return it.

ARTISTS WANTED

The Wistarian yearbook is in need of photographers for the Spring Semester!!! If you or any member of your organization is interested in taking pictures for the Wistarian contact Gina M. DiBias at X4486. Please leave your name, phone number and the best time to reach you.

We are also in need of staff members who are interested in doing artwork and layouts.

The weekend ended with three parties on Saturday night.

Carriage House had a small, intimate get together of about 65. When it was originally thought the keg had run out, a lot of people left the carriage house in search of beer. Those who stayed were rewarded with the appearance of another keg, compliments of Rich, Drew, and Margie!!! Lets do the hoky poky!!!! Premie abducted...look behind couch. It was really a good time!!!

Atlantic Street had a small party which Ana said was good.

Main Street had their first party in a long time. Laurie said it was a happy party with happy people. It was very crowded, but moveable.

People bopped from party to party all night long, like in the good old days...Let's try to keep up the spirit!!!

It was a weekend of hellos and merriement and a hell of a lot of partying!!! Buckethead.

Well, that's all she wrote. See ya next time.

PAUL ANKA AT THE PALACE

Paul Anka's life story is more interesting than most that you read about a star's. Paul's show is also one of the more invigorating, fresh, and upbeat. He's the star's star and he writes and arranges for many who are stars in their own right. He'll be at the Palace in New Haven for three appearances and from Jan. 31-Feb. 2 audiences will be treated to an experience they'll never forget. Feb. 2 appearance has been chosen by Paul to be a taped LIVE APPEARANCE for Home Video Entertainment and possibly will be picked up by HBO for a concert show.

The career of Paul Anka now spans three decades. In 1956 he took a batch of his songs to New York. The one written about the family's babysitter, DIANA, went right to the ABS record label and put ANKA on the map. By 1958, he had 20 top hits on the charts along with such teen idols as Connie Francis, Bobby Rydell, and Annette.

Musical genius? In the late fifties, Paul Anka musical score for Zanuck's film, THE LONGEST DAY earned him an Academy Award nomination. Paul is only 19 years old. The decade closed in 1959 with such hits as LONELY BOY and PUT YOUR HEAD ON MY SHOULDER.

The early 60's just go on and on with one major hit after another. Five of Paul's songs hit in TOKYO with a number one position all at once. In 1969, Paul wrote a song for Mr. Frank Sinatra named, MY WAY which hit number one in a matter of weeks and went on to be recorded by a dozen performers. In the 70's the pattern followed and picked up more success than imaginable. Andy Williams, Cher, Humperdinck and Jones were all doing ANKA's songs. And Paul's own hits like HAVING MY BABY and I DON'T WANT TO SLEEP ALONE rocketed him to number one again.

The 80's represent fresh challenges for Paul: TV specials, new albums, new sounds and a world tour spanning Europe, The Orient and South America.

To sum up a show of ANKA... "much more than an evening of first class music; it's a masterpiece of music and drama."

GREATER BRIDGEPORT SYMPHONY SALUTE TO BACH

The Greater Bridgeport Symphony Chamber Orchestra's third season will honor the 300th Birthday of J.S. Bach in "A Little Bach Festival," featuring world-renowned harpsichordist Igor Kipnis and other outstanding guest artists, performing some of Bach's most festive works, including the complete Brandenburg Concerti.

The two-concert series on Friday, February 15 and Friday, March 15 is under the direction of Yuval Waldman, who is Music Director of the International Bach Festival of Madeira, Portugal. Both concerts will take place at 8 PM at the First Presbyterian Church of Fairfield, Easton Turnpike, off Exit 46 (Sport Hill Road) Merritt Parkway.

Mr. Waldman founded the Chamber Orchestra in 1983 and is the Symphony's distinguished concertmaster and assistant conductor. The Russian-born Israeli, who is known as an authority on Bach and Baroque music, has concertized throughout the United States, Europe, Central America and Canada. He has also performed as principal violinist and frequent soloist of the Mostly Mozart Festival at Lincoln Center, and his recent performance at an Alice Tully Hall concert was reviewed in the New York Times as "eloquent." Mr. Waldman will perform as conductor and violin soloist in both Chamber Orchestra concerts.

The Chamber Orchestra's March 15th performance will be the gala opening concert of the year-long tribute to Bach's Tercentenary, presented by the Carlson Festivals Series, founded and directed by Dr. Ruth Carlson Horn and sponsored by the William and Philip Carlson Fund of the Bridgeport Area Foundation. The concert's featured guest artists will be soprano Katherine Aks, oboist Virginia Brewer and trumpet soloist Edward Carroll, performing in a program of Bach's Brandenburg Concerti, Nos. 1, 2, and 6, and Canata No. 51.

Subscription prices for the two concerts are $17 and $13 per seat (senior citizens and students: $8). For the individual concerts, ticket prices are $10 and $8 (senior citizens and students: $5). Seating is limited, and early reservations are suggested. For reservations contact the Greater Bridgeport Symphony, 446 University Avenue, in Bridgeport.

Norman Taylor: 42

THE BLUE COLLAR STAR

by Tim Hurley

As a freshman non-starter on one of the top Division 2 basketball teams in New England which features the tallest player in the land, the 1982-83 NECC scoring champ, and the younger brother of St. John's star Chris Mullin, it is easy for UB's Norman Taylor to be overlooked.

Should Taylor continue his excellent play however, he'll have a difficult time keeping a low profile.

Taylor, a muscular 6'6" forward out of Brandeis High School in New York City doesn't receive the accolades that some of his more celebrated mates have become accustomed to, but playing in the shadows of Manute Bol, Mark Butigian, John Mullin and the other Knight starters John O'Reilly and Clarence Gordon, doesn't seem to bother him at all.

Taylor is usually the first Bridgeport reserve off the bench. He currently spells Clarence Gordon and is averaging 11.1 points per game, which third best on the team behind Bol and Butigian.

The co-captain of his high school team and a former All-Public league performer, Taylor has displayed heady play at both ends of the court and plays like an upperclassman.

As fragile as Bol appears, Taylor is aggressively rugged under the boards. In UB's 90-69 win over New Haven, Taylor made his first start and responded with a career high 28 points and out-rebounded the "Dinka Dunker" 15 to 13. After the UNH win, Bol complemented Taylor. "He helped me with the rebounding," Bol said. "I'm worried about blocking out and he rebounds."

"Stormin'" Norman also had a fine game against Quinnipiac in UB's league opener. He came off the bench to score 18 points and also out-rebounded Bol 12 to 11. It was in that game when Taylor's court savvy could be observed. With just over two minutes remaining, UB led by 17. Bridgeport's guards had great difficulty breaking the Braves' press and consequently saw their lead shrink to nine. UB was able to run out the clock as Taylor came back to help his teammates move the ball upcourt and finish off the Quins.

Taylor has shown shades of the now departed Chris Dickey by using his strength underneath the hoop to haul down rebounds and he also does most of his scoring from in close, using the glass effectively.

Coach Bruce Webster, who undoubtedly had one of his finest years recruiting last year, speaks highly of Taylor.

"When we got him, we knew he was a good player," Webster said. "Norman is very valuable to us and we need him to play good basketball for us."

Taylor is a high percentage shooter and he hit 12 for 19 shots against New Haven, and six of seven against both Quinnipiac and St. Michael's.

Streaking Knights at 14-3

by Tim Hurley

Prior to last night's journey to the Owl's Nest, the home of the Southern Connecticut State University cagers, the UB Purple Knights found themselves sitting atop the NECC with an unblemished 5-0 record and an overall 14-3 record.

After winning their first five games of the season, Bridgeport dropped two out of three games. They were beaten by Mt. St. Mary's College of Maryland 72-59 after leading 10-0. Mt. St. Mary's is currently ranked in the top ten in the nation in Division II. UB managed to salvage the southern road trip by downing Randolph Macon the following night by 75-68, but on Dec. 10, they were beaten badly by AIC, 79-65. Last week, AIC was sandwiched between Sacred Heart (No. 1) and UB (No. 3) in the New England Polls.

On Dec. 13, with Mark Butigian and Manute Bol both out of action, Bridgeport ripped Mercy College 83-69.

Following a 28-day layoff, UB traveled to Bentley College and came away with a 70-60 victory. The Purple Knights snapped the Falcon's seven-game winning streak and did it before a standing room only crowd of 3,300 at the Dana Physical Education Center. John Mullin fired in 19 points and Bol led all scorers with 21. Bol also contributed 16 rebounds and eight blocked shots. Bentley went into the game as the best field goal shooting team in the nation (58.8%) but shot only 42 percent against Bol & Co.

The next night UB came out flat and was knocked off by Assumption College 67-66. Bol and Butigian each missed shots in the last twelve seconds.

Returning to the Harvey Hubbell Gym, the Purple Knights of Bridgeport ruined the Purple Knights of St. Michael's 88-60. UB led 45-24 at the half and never looked back. Bol led a balanced attack with 17 points (he also had 21 rebounds and 10 blocks), Norman Taylor had 16 and John Mullin, making his first start chipped in 15.

In their NECC opener, Bruce Webster's club downed youthful Quinnipiac 83-76. Bol was awesome with 27 points, 11 caroms and 5 blocks. John O'Reilly dished out 14 assists and Taylor added 18 big points.

More importantly, the game marked the return of Mark Butigian, who suffered through a short slump. "I had trouble with my delivery, but I think I've gotten it straightened out," Butigian said.

The Knights made the most of their recent road trip winning twice over New Hampshire College 85-77 and Lowell 62-47.

On Jan. 23, the Pioneers of Sacred Heart made their way down Park Ave. looking for their eighth straight win on the UB court, but came away on a 70-64 loser. (See page 1).

Last Saturday afternoon, Stu Grove's Chargers of UNH became the Knights sixth straight victim. UB overcame a half time deficit to destroy New Haven 90-69 before 1,264 fans, the largest crowd at North Campus Gym. Bol hit for a career-high 31 and also had 13 rebounds and nine blocked shots. Norman Taylor sparkled in his initial collegiate start hitting for 28 points, also a career high.

Lady Knights Win Pair

by Paul Krafcik

Simone Courtlandt scored 37 points to help lead the University of Bridgeport Women's Basketball team to victories over Sacred Heart (78-57) and the University of New Haven (53-50).

On Thursday night at the Hubbell, the Lady Knights met the Sacred Heart Lady Pioneers in a NECC contest.

The Lady Knights went to work right away, with Simone Courtlandt (19 points, 11 assists) and Liz Dick (17 points) hitting over 50% of their shots. The Lady Knights also played tough defense and led 36-23 at the half.

The second half turned out to be a continuation of the first as the Lady Knights dominated in all facets of the game. Belinda Hill came off the bench and scored 10 points for the Lady Knights, while Julie Sergeant was UB's leading rebounder with eight caroms. In fact, the Lady Knights had a 43-29 rebounding edge.

Nancy Stanton paced the Lady Pioneers with 15 points and eight rebounds, while Kim Schmidt had 12 points.

On Saturday, the Lady Knights travelled to New Haven to face the UNH Lady Chargers, in another important NECC game.

In this contest Simone Courtlandt scored four of her game-high 19 points in the final seconds to lift the Lady Knights to victory.

The Lady Knights, who raised their record to 10-7 and 3-2 in the NECC, trailed 50-49, before Courtlandt's layup made it 51-50. Courtlandt then stole the inbounds pass and scored again to clinch the victory.

Chris Reinholz added 10 points for the Knights, while Bonnie Richards ruled the boards with nine rebounds. Mary Doherty and Carlene Moody placed UNH with 19 and 11, respectively. The Lady Knight's defense limited UNH to only 18-70 (26 per cent) shots from the field.
